JOHN LAURENCE RESANDO

FULL STACK ENGINEER

PROFILE

I specialize in building websites, web applications and mobile apps from concept to production. With expertise in both frontend and backend development, I focus on creating scalable and high-performance solutions. I also manage the full development lifecycle from system architecture and coding to deployment and ongoing maintenance. Additionally, I bring creative expertise in graphic design to craft intuitive user interfaces and ensure seamless user experiences. Along with development, I manage web hosting and database servers, ensuring optimal performance and reliability. I am also committed to continuous learning and always willing to explore new technologies to stay ahead in the ever-evolving tech landscape.

WORK EXPERIENCE
